APPROPRIATION FOR SECTABIAN PURPOSES CUT OFF.

The Registration Bill on its Second Reading in the Senute. Opinions of Individual Members.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, MARCH 28.

THE SENATE.

After the usual preliminaries of of the minutes, Minister Damon at reported that the answers to the a questions propounded by Senator McCandless, asking for a list of taxpayers on the various islands and the amount of taxes paid, had Printing Committee. been prepared for the island of Oahu and handed to Senator Baldwin. The Kanai list had also been received, and it was herewith presented.

Senator Lyman from the Committee on Public Lands to whom had been referred the petition of merchants asking that the construction of corrugated iron shanties in the fire limits be stopped, reported that the committee had investigated the matter and also visited the buildings complained of. The result arrived at by the committee was that the matter demanded immediate atwhich he read.

Minister Damon called attention to Act 84 of the Provisional Government, which appropriated certain sums of money to St. Louis, Oahu, Kamehameha and Hilo colleges. The money had been paid to these institutions up to December 31st and another quarter was now due. The money had already been appropriated but the Auditor-General refused to audit the bills, claiming that by the bill passed by the present legislature the new fiscal period commenced on January 1st of this year and all appropriations heretofore made which ran into the present period were necessarily void. The Executive differed with the Auditor-General on the matter and were in favor of paying the amounts. He therefore introduced a Joint Resolution authorizing the payresolution pass. Senator Brown objected on the ground that the passage of the resolution virtually amounted to a re-appropriation of the money. This Legislature was powerless to do that, as the Constitution expressly provides that no money shall be appropriated for the support of sectarian schools after January 1st. 1896.

Senator Waterhouse moved the

Senator Waterhouse withdrew his motion and moved to refer to the Judiciary Committee.

Senator McCandless moved to lay on the table, and read the law saying the very object of its passage was to set at rest all such Anniversary of Pacific Degree Lodge questions as had just arisen.

Senator Lyman did not see how it was possible to pay the amounts, after passing the bill defining the fiscal period. He was sorry for the schools but must vote against the resolution.

The motion to lay on the table prevailed by a vote of 7 to 4.

Senator Holstein read a bill of which he had previously given notice, amending the Act providing for the manufacture of wine from Hawaiian grown grapes. The amendments proposed proprayer, roll call and the reading the nearest Custom House a cost not to exceed quarter of 1 per cent of its cost, and imposition of an internal revenue tax of one-third that of imported wines of the same class. House Bill No. 7, the Registration Act, was then taken up on the second reading.

Senator Brown, in moving the passage of Section 1 of the bill. gave an account of the work of the Commission appointed at the recent special session and argued at length in favor of the bill.

Minister Damon moved that further consideration of Section 1 tention, and the committee had therefore drafted a bill looking to a mitigation of the evil, ter then argued against the pas-The bill extends the fire limits sage of the bill, reiterating the vertaking in both sides of the arguments he had previously advanced in the other House.

Senator Rice opposed the bill on the ground that it interfered with personal liberty. He did not see why a man should have to go around wearing a dog tag and did not propose to do it if he could help himself. He could not swallow the bill whole as he was asked to do. Senator McCandless could not see how it curtailed personal liberty in any way. He called attention to the beneficial results to be expected from the advantages of the bill in detecting and checking crime.

Senator Brown said the bill would be the means of the collection of $25,000 in taxes which was now absolutely lost to the government.

The Attorney-General advocated the passage of the bill with great warmth and at some considerable length. Senator Waterhouse poured oil on the troubled waters by stating that the bill in its amended shape had only been placed on the Senators' tables this morning and he thought the members had hardly had time to properly digest it. To allow of this he moved that the whole subject be brought up as unfinished business on Monday and that the Senate do now ad-

DAT GRITIERS OF REBERAH

Pleasantly Celebrated.

Wherever Odd Fellowship has gained a good footing, as it has long ago in Honolulu, you will find a women's degree of the order. This is known as the Daughters, of Rebekah, LO.O.F. Pacific Degree Lodge, D. of R., was organized in Honolulu several years ago and last night celebrated its anniversary with a literary and musical social followed by a dance. The order of the entertainment was as follows:

Each item in the literary and musical program was exceedingly well rendered. Miss Rice delighted the audience in well known sentimental airs with variations on the piano. The two young people in the "Quakers' Courtship" were very mirth-provoking. Mr. and Miss Love, in their in strumental duet, afforded a rare treat. The little social drama evoked roars of laughter over the discomfiture of the village gossips. While all acted their parts well, special mention may be made of the artistic swoon of Mrs. H. H. Williams at the denouement. It could not have been discounted on th≥ professional stage.

In the representation of Jean Ingelow's beautiful sketch, "Songs of Seven," the ladies taking part gave some fine elocution, while the stage setting of a garden scene was remarkably pretty. There were good-sized trees, a great variety of flowers, the crescent moon hung aloft, a leafy bower portal, etc., all of which showed the results of artistic conception and skilful construction. The managing committee were: Mrs. Petrie, chairman; Mrs. Coon, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. D. P. Lawrence, Mrs. G. Turner. Messrs. H. H. Williams and Charles Carter acted as floor managers for the dance. Ice cream, cake, coffee While the Cabinet conclusion of the litterary and the piano. The diversion was kept up until midnight, when the Virginia reel was danced as the

There was a good attendance in spite of unfavorable weather and muddy streets, and the Daughters of Rebekah deserve every compliment for the charming evening they carried through.

Street Collision.

Last night a buggy driven by a small boy ran against a street car from Punahou opposite Washington Place, upsetting the buggy and hurling the young driver out on the street. The car driver had shouted a warning to the lad to keep off, just a second before the collision. Fortunately the little fellow was not hurt and the horse being quiet did not attempt to run away. The editor of this paper, who was walking down town, aided by a passenger from the car, righted the carriage, while John Phillips, who also was aboard the car, readjusted the harness. Meanwhile the carriage lamp, which was knocked off, had its oil take fire, making a merry blaze. The carriage top was made lop-sided by the concussion. The boy said the carriage belonged to Mr. Markhoff.

A Startling Statement.

The statement is made, and the figures can be produced therefor, that less than 8 per cent of the sake imported into this country from Japan is sold through the medium of the saloons. The other 92 per cent finds its way into the little Chinese and Japanese stores scattered about the islands, and is by them peddled out to natives and Japanese while the saloons are given the credit of it. The island of Kauai absorbs a vast proportion of the sake shipped from Honolulu, which can be readily seen by taking a look at the freight of any departing steamer for that island.

Makiki Lots at Auction.
